

SPRING SUMMIT 23rd April 2020, The National Museum, Helsinki

Climate change and digitalisation as drivers of skills and knowledge in the bioforest industry in 2020's

Chair Riikka Joukio

- 10.00 Registration and coffee
- 10.30 PI's Annual Meeting, official part
- Summary of PI's activities
 - PI's strategy 2020-2025
 - Financial statements
 - Member issues
 - Scholarships and awards
- 11.30 Impact of the climate change by 2050 and transforming business environment of the forest-based bioeconomy
Nina Killström, Sustainability Services & Mika Järvensivu, Partner, Deloitte Oy
- 12.00 Case: Consumer expectations of the plastic free consumer packages
Saila Kettunen, Business Unit Director, Barrier Boards, Kotkamills
- 12.30 Case: Renewable biofuels and other bioproducts from the tall oil of the pulp mills
Jukka Ravaska, CEO, Fintoil Oy
- 13.00 Buffet lunch
- 14.30 ForestBioFacts – develop your knowledge with the digital learning environment
Jenni Sievänen-Rahijärvi, Project Manager, PI & Johanna Vainiomäki, Communications and Marketing Coordinator, PI
- 14.50 Case: SEED – better production efficiency and more innovations for paper, carton and pulp mills with new digital solutions
Pirita Mikkonen, Vice President, Energy, Metsä Group
- 15.20 Keynote: How does digitalisation and future technologies affect the skills and competences?
Perttu Pölönen, futurist, innovator, composer
- 15.50 Future Panel: How will the next decade look for bioforest industry and its professionals?

*Facilitator: Nina Pulkkis, Science Journalist, Panelists: Olli Dahl, Professor, Aalto University, Kauko Leiviskä, Professor Emeritus, University of Oulu, Heli Kangas, Technology Manager, VTT & Tom Lind, Head of Packaging Solutions Nordics, Stora Enso, commentators: Nina Killström & Perttu Pölönen
- 16.30 Afternoon coffee and a possibility to visit the exhibition in the National Museum